Overview of the Revenue Examiner Job

The following information is provided in order to assist you in determining whether you are able and willing to perform the job of a Revenue Examiner. An individual's expectations of the job before s/he is selected for the position often differ from what s/he experiences once on the job, which can result in low levels of job satisfaction. This information is designed to help applicants make more accurate judgments about their interest in working as a Revenue Examiner.

The following information was gathered through a process (known as job analysis) of interviews, meetings, and surveys with Revenue Examiner incumbents from various jurisdictions throughout Jefferson County. Through this effort, the PBJC explored what is typically done on the job, as well as the knowledge, skills, abilities, and other characteristics (KSAOs) that a person needs to possess to successfully perform the work. Although not for everyone, a career as a Revenue Examiner is both challenging and rewarding. If you decide to pursue a career in this field, you will be expected to perform the work behaviors described in this section.

The Revenue Examiner job class is a Grade 18 position and is located in six (6) jurisdictions within the Merit System. Please note that salary ranges for each jurisdiction are subject to change due to cost of living adjustments. You can check current salary ranges at <https://www.pbjcal.org/employment/Schedules>.

Revenue Examiners are responsible for enforcing the City/County/State revenue laws within their jurisdictions. Employees in this position inspect businesses and residences in assigned territories to determine business classification, tax liability, appropriate licensures, and other revenue-related information. Revenue Examiners process various business operation applications (e.g., business licenses, special event permits, etc.) and collect relevant taxes (e.g., occupation tax, liquor tax, ad valorem tax, lease tax, lodging tax, etc.). Revenue Examiners work in an office setting using standard office equipment (e.g., computer, phone, copier, etc.) and have no supervisory responsibilities to subordinate personnel.

The major duties performed by Revenue Examiner employees that were determined to be critical during the most recent job analysis include the following:

- Inspects businesses and homes in an assigned territory to determine business classification, tax liability, and if proper licenses are displayed;

- Documents work in assigned territory by maintaining logs, preparing reports, and updating database(s).

Competencies Being Measured

As stated previously, job analysis is a systematic process that the PBJC uses to collect, analyze, and interpret data about a job to identify the work requirements (i.e., work behaviors and tasks) and people requirements (i.e., knowledge, skills, abilities, and other characteristics) for the job. The process results in a determination of the duties and tasks that are critical for job success and the knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs) that are required to perform those duties.

During the test development process, the PBJC analyst clustered, or grouped, the KSAs determined to be critical for the Revenue Examiner job into related categories, or competencies. The following are the competencies that are being measured by the Revenue Examiner examination process:

Description of the Test Components

This section of the guide provides you with descriptions of the test components that you will complete during the Revenue Examiner examination, as well as the Minimum Qualifications (MQs) that were used to determine which applicants were eligible to take the examination. The MQs and the computer-administered test were developed based on the job analysis data gathered from job incumbents and supervisors, referred to as subject matter experts (SME), by PBJC analysts. Multiple methods were used for gathering job data, including site observations, individual interviews, critical incidents, technical panels, SME meetings, and job analysis questionnaires. Through these methods, analysts were able to determine the critical duties, tasks, and KSAs for the Revenue Examiner job. The MQs and computer-administered test are designed to assess the KSAs that were deemed important and needed on day one of the job by Revenue Examiner subject matter experts.

Test Scoring and Test Results Notification

As stated previously in this Guide, all of your responses to test questions and exercises will be collected through your testing computer. Candidate results will be downloaded for further analysis to calculate each candidate’s final score. The final score of passing candidates will be placed into a rank-ordered list.

Once the analysis is complete, you will be notified of your score by email. When you receive your test score notice, it will include your final score on the exam as well as your preliminary rank. This rank is tentative and may change if there is any change to candidates’ scores during the appeal period.

Four (4) business days from the date the notification of results is emailed constitutes the appeal period for this examination. If you have any questions about your results, please contact the staff member listed in the results email. If after speaking with this staff member you still have concerns about your results, you may submit a written appeal to the Personnel Board Director outlining your concerns. All appeals are treated seriously and reviewed thoroughly before making a determination. Appeals related to the content of the test, however, are not considered. Procedural matters related to test administration, assessment, or calculation of results are legitimate areas for appeal. To be considered, an appeal must be received at the Personnel Board offices by the appeal end date listed in the notice. Appeals received after this date will not be considered.

If you successfully pass the exam, your name will be added to an eligible register of candidates. Your name will be placed on the list, in rank order, according to your score on the exam. Names are sent to departments with vacancies throughout Jefferson County according to rank on the test. (Keep in mind that your rank will improve as other individuals are selected and hired off of the eligible register.) The Revenue Examiner register stays active for approximately one (1) years. If, during that period, you would like to see if your rank has changed, you may call our Applicant Services department at 205.279.3500.

The various jurisdictions for which there are openings for Revenue Examiner may wish to conduct background checks, criminal record checks, or further selection procedures to review candidates. After the eligible register has been released to these jurisdictions, you must contact them for further information about your status in the selection process. Please note that in some cases, a specific jurisdiction may require you to participate in additional interviews or other selection processes before hiring you.
